Good Morning, Miss Future!

West Texas State's Building Program

A great college is a costly enterprise—that is, as compared with most private and some public enterprises. First of all, it takes a good physical plant in which to do its work—many kinds of specially constructed buildings and much technical equipment. West Texas State has a sound nucleus for such a plant but stands in immediate need of physical expansion. The following outline indicates the nature, the scope, and the estimated cost of the buildings we are planning for the post-war era:

Completion of the annex to Randall Hall	$ 75,000
Completion of the Museum addition	50,000
Student Memorial Building	200,000
Library Building	300,000
Gymnasium, and Health and Phys. Ed. Bldg.	250,000
Vocational Arts Building	100,000
Fine Arts Building (music, speech, art)	200,000
Dormitory for Women	250,000
Dormitory for Men	200,000
Dormitory at College Farm	50,000
Final Unit of Museum	75,000
Chapel	30,000
Heating Plant	100,000
President's House	35,000
Miscellaneous small buildings and improvements including a green house, garages, sidewalks, landscaping, etc.	40,000
Equipment	100,000
Repairs	65,000
Total	$2,070,000

To some people this may seem a bit fantastic. It is not. Our present plant has cost approximately that same sum. It has been built in 30 years—years characterized by two major wars, terrible economic depression, and ruthless competition. Will the years ahead be any better? I don't know. In some respects I believe they will. The state and nation have come to realize as never before the necessity for a wide and generous diffusion of knowledge among all the people. Thoughtful minds today assert that the American public system of education has saved this country and civilization from disaster and destruction. Even the blind can see that in the years ahead this country, if she is to carry the responsibility that military victory will impose, must be educated in the fullest possible measure and trained to the Nth degree. Both state and nation will be compelled to spend great sums of money, hitherto undreamed of, on schools at all levels of instruction. Education is the cheapest insurance society can buy.

To be sure, we do not expect the legislature to underwrite the above program. It will, however, be more liberal in the future than in the past. The federal government, too, will put much money in this program. I say this because it is right that it should. It has taken over so much of the field of taxation as to leave local governments helpless to expand very much. It will be compelled to give to localities and small units of government much of the revenue it collects—a good part of which revenue comes from agencies that monopolize and exploit our own natural resources and leave us unable adequately to support ourselves. Furthermore, in the development of this building program we shall expect that private benefactions will do their share. Already the springs of this stream have begun to flow. They will gather volume and momentum as the years come and go. I shall have more to say about this in subsequent articles, but I cannot close this one without asking the reader to consider his own opportunity and ability to promote the cause of the above program. Yes, Miss Future, West Texas State likes your looks.

War Bond Program in Canyon Monday

Veterans Will Be Here Together With Army Band and Group of Entertainers

Headed by a group of returned war heroes from every battlefront, a special unit of the "G I Jamboree" show will visit Canyon on November 27 at 10:30 a. m. at a huge bond rally as part of the Smashing Sixth War Loan campaign for this sector.

Accompanying the heroes will be a "G I" military show, complete with band, entertainers and novelty acts from the Amarillo Army Air Base. The "G I Jamboree" unit which will visit Canyon is one of four such units touring 200 towns of the Lone Star State under the supervision of the War Activities Committee for the motion picture industry.

Acting as master of ceremonies for the show here will be M. M. Murphree, manager of the Granada theatre in Brownwood, and Marvin Brown, retiring District Attorney of Tarrant County.

Three servicemen who have just returned from the European and Pacific theatres of war and who will speak at the rally are Sergeant Clyde Mayo, Private Richard J. McCarthy and Sergeant Guy B. Cohea.

Sergeant Mayo from Nevada, Texas, is one of the oldest paratroopers in the U. S. Army. The 47 year old Sergeant landed on the Cherbourg Peninsula on D-Day within 500 yards of a German infantry regiment but was not seen. Mayo was injured in this landing but established contact with the French underground who helped him return to his own lines.

Pvt. McCarthy of Albion, New York, is a veteran of the campaign to recapture Guam. He was with the first unit to hit the island and went through the full 17 days of fighting before he was injured.

Sgt. Cohea of El Paso, served with the First Cavalry Division in New Guinea and the Admiralty campaigns. He wears two bronze stars for action in these campaigns and was wounded in action in the Admiralty Islands.

The program will be held on the public square if the weather is favorable; but if the weather is bad, the meeting will be in the auditorium of West Texas State. All citizens of Randall county are urged to attend this rally.

All of Us Are Guilty

A speaker in Canyon last week put the problem straight up to Americans.

While we talk about punishing those guilty of this war, we Americans must plead guilty to our part in the war.

In 1918-19 we rejected the only thing which might have saved us from this war. We were isolationists, all of us, and believed that our two oceans would save us, regardless of what was going on in Europe. Even up to the stab-in-the-back by Japan, we felt secure behind those two little ponds of water. Japan showed us just how silly our argument was.

America refused to heed the words of warning of General Pershing, who wanted to go on to Berlin. We thought Germany was whipped.

England financed Hitler's rise, and we sat by and cheered the new order of things which brought us some business.

When Italy started into Africa, and when Japan started warring on China, we thought it was good business to sell them what they wanted to buy.

There is no getting around the argument, Americans are guilty. Most of those who misled the nation are either dead or voted out of office, but their influence remained predominent until we got a sad awakening at Pearl Harbor.

What are we going to do about the future?

There has never been a stronger Congress for peace than the new one which takes office in January. Most of the isolationists have been defeated.

President Roosevelt advocates some kind of training for boys when they reach 18 years. While the war is still on, and while people are looking to the future for peace is a good time to consider this problem. When the war comes to an end, Americans will demand that our boys be returned home. If a national policy can be determined before the peace is written, the people will be ready for the training period as a natural consequence for permanent peace.

Governor Coke Stevenson has appointed three regents to take the place of the three who recently resigned after President Rainey was fired. David M. Warren, publisher and banker of Panhandle and Borger, is one of the three named. The row still continues at Austin. Rainey, members of the faculty, ex-students and students are all out with interviews and statements. The Governor is being criticised; the regents cussed; and general confusion exists. The situation is very regrettable, and citizens of Texas should withhold judgment until the new board of regents has time to discuss the problem. The University of Texas will not be ruined by this flare-up, regardless of what anyone thinks for the moment. The university has gone through many previous battles. Men have lost out, but the university remains. Perhaps there are some Texans who honestly believe that the present flame-up will set the university back for a score or more years. This is not the case. The university will continue, regardless of what the new regents may do.

The little music boss has won out. Millions of dollars in royalties will flow into the treasury of his union. Oh, no, the musicians will not get this royalty. We will have another political boss of the Hillman class spending huge sums of money as he pleases. While every little two by four business in the nation has to report on its operations, and no individual can escape telling Uncle Sam how much he makes and what he does with his money, heads of unions are free to gather in the coin and make no accounting. Do you think that is fair?

Nearly every man who smokes says at times, "Oh, well I smoke too much." But with the shortage of cigarettes, how many have actually cut down on their smoking? In the east, the gals have blossomed out with pipes, in which perhaps many other cigarette smokers will follow suit.

Boost Our Own System

Government has grown to be such a giant in this country and has so many millions of persons on its payroll, that it is the biggest problem business and industry are going to have to contend with in the so-called readjustment period.

Already there is an army of economic planners at work to keep the check rein of government on every private activity. This will be done under the guise of preventing inflation, and creating employment. Business and industry will have to figure out ways to operate and exist and employ labor and pay taxes, in spite of all the plans that all the planners can heap upon them.

Very few of the planners are sincerely outspoken in their desire to restrict government competition or domination of business, and encourage the individual to go out and try to create the postwar jobs and production which they talk about.

Most of the planners, by innuendo or plain threats, say that if business doesn't maintain record employment, government will. And many of them seem to be hopeful that they can lay enough stumbling blocks in the way of private enterprise so that they will have an excuse for saying that government must take over.

Imagine the spirit of optimism that would prevail in this nation if business and industry felt that our government and the powerful bureaus that now dominate it, were whole-heartedly in favor of promoting private enterprise under fair and reasonable regulation. If risk capital was encouraged to take a chance, it is safe to say that our natural resource industries would experience new growth after the war, as the world is going to want the products of our mines, farms and forests in unheard of quantities, in exchange for the goods that they must sell to us. Why not uphold the American system for Americans, instead of aping in so many ways the socialized systems of Europe, where some bureaucrat throttles the opportunity of the individual? It is time the people of this country began to work to save our own American system, instead of adopting alien philosophies.

The labor situation is getting to be a hot question in Washington. Labor was largely responsible for the re-election of the President. Labor is now demanding, stronger than ever before, that the little steel formula be broken by the President and that labor shall receive a boost. Three members of the War Labor Board resigned, but were prevailed upon by the President to stay on the job until Germany is whipped. Whatever the board may do about wages is subject to revision by the President. While every agency that has been created by the President has been attempting to hold down the cost of living, breaking the little steel formula will upset the entire structure and we shall have inflation. No wonder labor board members want to get out before this time takes place.

The coming session of the legislature is going to attempt revamping Texas election laws. Redistricting and changing the election laws are certainly past due reforms needed in Texas. It is almost certain that the run-off primary will be eliminated. Many states have the preferential primary in which the voter signifies his first, second, third choice. From this, the election officials figure who is the winner. While the system is a little complicated, it saves the candidates much money, and saves the people a lot of time in performing their duties as voters.

The Political Action Committee of CIO has voted to continue its functions. Why not? This group gets the brass ring for carrying the big cities for the President and thereby keeping him in office. Nothing succeeds like success. Therefore Sidney Hillman will continue to do business at the same old game so long as he is successful. When he is whipped, he will be just another political boss thrown into the ash can.

Congressman Eugene Worley is reported to be working on a revision of the electoral college system. We hope that Congress will take this matter up so that it may be passed to the various state legislators early in 1945 for approval. This is the way that constitutional amendments are approved in our federal government.

You are invited to be in Canyon next Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock to see the returning veterans and to hear the program which will be put on for the 6th War Loan Drive. The show is free to all, and every citizen will get a better understanding of the war when he hears this program.

The average citizen may not understand how hard it is for a newspaper to cut one day off its week and get by as usual. But we're still thankful for one day's rest. Here is hoping for you a Thankful Thanksgiving.

Where is Hitler? We hear it asked every day over the radio, and read it in the daily press. If he is where we hope he is, he has no need of a fur coat.

Buffs Gain 19 to 14 Victory Over SPAAF

Sleet and Hail Cause Field to be Sloppy

Bottling up the South Plains Winged Commandos in Texas Tech stadium at Lubbock Friday night, the Buffaloes gained a 19 to 14 victory, regardless of a field made sloppy by heavy snow. Sleet and hail fell most of the second half, but the Hustlin' Buffs fought on.

Despite sloppy conditions, passing played an important part in all scoring. Eddie Castleberry and Henry Bledsoe of the Buffs completed seven out of eight passes and one went over for a touchdown.

Metz LaFollette and Willard Hedges were on the receiving end of Buff passes which netted 80 yards. McClennehan and Young handled the SPAAF passes good for 93 yards.

The Buffs were on the long end of the ground gaining 207 to 122. Castleberry, Kelley and Hedges led the Buff ground attack. The Buff line played an outstanding game holding the big Fliers.

With two minutes gone in the second period, Curtis Kelley scored the first Buff touchdown powering his way across the pay stripe for two yards. Bledsoe followed the score with a perfect placement.

Kelley and Castleberry paced the Buffs on their first touchdown drive. The second Buff touchdown came on a 90-yard march after Hedges intercepted a pass on the 10-yard line. With Castleberry and Kelley carrying the ball, and Bledsoe passing to LaFollette and Hedges, the drive was made in 12 plays. Bledsoe's aerial to LaFollete from the six was good for the touchdown.

Early in the third period Campbell ran wild for the Commandos making the last five yards standing up. He also kicked the point after touchdown.

The Buffs came back strong and rolled for 73 yards. Castleberry making the final two yards for the touchdown. Hedges made two long runs to put the ball in scoring position.

As the Buffs invaded the South Plains Army Air Field Winged Commandos, they were without the services of their great guard, Bill Thompson. In his place was Pete Brumley of Clarendon.

Loss of Thompson cost the Buffaloes 10 pounds in weight and four years in age, Brumley being only 17 years old and weighing 180 pounds.

Thanksgiving!

On that First Thanksgiving Day, the Pilgrims offered thanks for the preservation of their lives and the happiness which resulted from a good crop.

Today we have many more things for which we can be thankful—friends, neighbors, freedom of thought and action, and freedom of worship.

This Canyon firm is very thankful for the splendid business that you have given us, and we trust that we shall have contributed much to the blessing of your Thanksgiving through the services we have rendered.

6th WAR LOAN

THE young man in this picture obviously is an extreme example. Our Government certainly does not expect any of us to go that far in restricting our buying—even to put the 6th War Loan over the top.

But our fighting forces certainly will feel that their sacrifices are appreciated if we deny ourselves some things and put the money into extra War Bonds instead.

Remember, War Bonds pay off at maturity at the rate of $4 for every $3 invested. Try to buy at least one extra $100 Bond while this 6th War Loan Drive is on.

Oft forgot was the spare

But now 'days it gets air

War forced closest attention to every motoring detail. And this fine habit of thoughtfulness has grown on car owners.

You'd only be testing human kindness by changing to a half-flat spare and setting out for the next air hose. Where a forgetful man actually tries it, a good Samaritan generally drives up alongside, pointing a helpful warning. America has become as thoughtful as all that toward her indispensable cars. And of all the examples of car-care the greatest single one you can follow is to have your engine OIL-PLATED. In that way—by changing to Conoco N*th* motor oil for Winter—by changing to this patented oil that OIL-PLATES—you'll give your engine's insides the *n*th degree of protection from acid corrosion.

All engine combustion creates corrosive acids. They're bad enough even when "exhaled" fairly well, but from now on they won't be! Winter's extra-low mileage and cool operation mean acids at their worst. Patented Conoco N*th* oil, however . . . thanks to costly pioneer research . . . brings the special ingredient whose magnet-like action OIL-PLATES the fine inner engine finish, to cope with corrosion. Attached as closely as protective chrome plating could be, the internal OIL-PLATING keeps up its steadiest possible hindrance to direct contact between acids and engine parts. . . .Then down go the chances of corrosion, just as soon as you change to popular-priced N*th* oil for Winter, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Notes From County H. D. Agent

Home salted nuts are enjoying renewed popularity this fall with a record nut crop moving to market. Nuts salted at home are comparatively inexpensive and can help to make up for shortages of other holiday delicacies this year.

Frying in deep fat is generally considered to give the best flavor to many nuts—almonds and peanuts for example. But since fats are scarce now, home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture suggest using the oven or frying pan methods, which roast delicious nuts with a minimum of fat.

Blanching—removing the skin from smooth surface nutmeats—is not necessary before roasting such tender skinned nuts as pecans, hickory nuts and walnuts. To blanch almonds, pour boiling water over them and hold at simmering temperature for 3 minutes. Then drain. The skins should come off easily when pressed with thumb and forefinger. Spread the blanched kernels on absorbent paper and dry overnight at room temperature. Peanuts may be water-blanched like almonds but this is unnecessary if they are to be prepared in the oven, because the skins will slip off easily after roasting.

In the following recipes, 2 teaspoons of cooking oil or melted fat or butter—just enough to coat the kernels—and I teaspoon of salt, are sufficient for each cup of nutmeats.

"Frying Pan Roasting": To roast pecans, hickory nuts, or English walnuts, combine whole nutmeat halves with the oil or melted fat in a frying pan. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until hot through. Avoid overcooking. Nut meants, particularly pecans, darken a little more after being removed from the heat and become crisper as they cool. Drain on absorbent paper and sprinkle with salt.

Blanched almonds or blanched peanuts may be treated similarly, but they must be heated a little longer—until light brown in color—(about 15 to 30 minutes in all, depending on the size of the nuts and the degree of brownness desired).

If exposed to the sun the Worm Snake dies almost immediately.

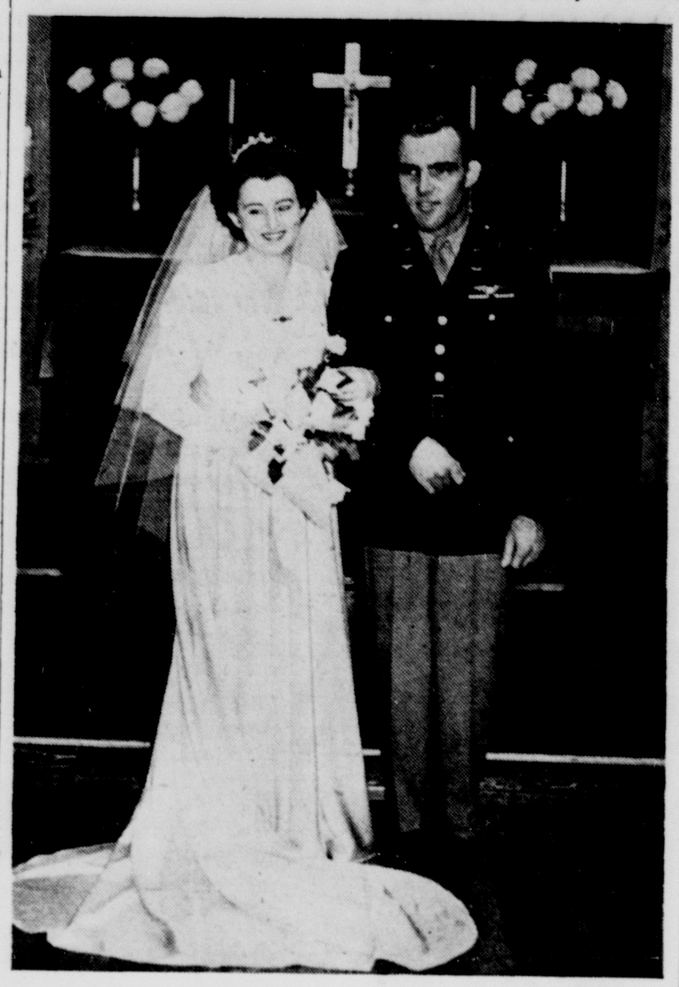
Miller-Albers Wedding Monday Nite



By Phyllis Albers

Before the altar decorated with giant white mums and flanked on either side by tall, seven branched, golden candelabra and palms, Miss Gertrude Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller of Canyon, and Lt. Vance W. Albers, son of Mr. E. H. Albers of Canyon, were united in holy matrimony Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Trinity Lutheran church in Amarillo. The double ring ceremony preceded by a short inspirational sermon, was read by Rev. M. J. H. Hartenberger.

Music with Lily Larsen at the organ included "Indian Love Call" to herald the approach of the bridal party, and the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" as they entered. "Traumerei" by Shumann was played softly during the ceremony and "Oh Perfect Love" was sung by Arthur Albers of Hartley, just before the vows were read. As a recessional, Miss Larsen played Mendelsshon's "Wedding March."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown with a short train and fashioned with long sleeves and a pearl embroidered lace yoke with a deep V-neck. At her throat for something old, she wore a gold pin which had belonged to the groom's deceased mother. For something borrowed she wore a lovely three tiered fingertip veil which her sister, Mrs. Adolph Kampen had worn at her wedding. She carried white roses tied with white satin ribbon.

Miss Phyllis Albers, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, wore pale pink; Mrs. Adolph Kampen as matron of honor, wore peach, and Misses Clara and Betty Ann Miller, sisters of the bride, as bridesmaids, wore yellow and green. Dresses of the attendants were all fashioned of taffeta with sweetheart neckline, tucked bodice and gathered skirts. They wore matching half hats with full shoulder length veils and carried bouquets of pale yellow mums tied with satin bows to match their gowns.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue street dress and a white mum corsage.

The groom was attended by Bruce Albers, his youngest brother, as best man and by his father, E. H. Albers and Alan and Marvin Albers, his brothers, thus completing the bridal party composed only of members of the bride and groom's families.

After a short wedding trip to an undisclosed point, the couple will proceed to Lincoln, Nebr. where Lt. Albers will report for further assignment.

Immediately after the wedding a reception for the family and friends of the couple was held in the home of the bride's parents. The lovely three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature army Lt. and bride and flanked by tall white tapers centered the lace covered table from which coffee and cake were served by the bride's mother and sisters. The wedding cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Adolph Kampen.

Served at the reception were the honorees, Lt. and Mrs. Albers, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Meyer and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Michael and family, Mr. Henry Meyer, Miss Herta Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Albers, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Root and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Burrus and family, Mr. O. D. Bragg and Ralph Bragg, Mrs. John E. Albers, Mrs. Bob Harlow and daughters, Mrs. Adolph Kampen, Misses Clara and Betty Ann Miller, Phyllis Albers, Barbara Michael and Ellen Root, Mrs. Pauline Wendelken and Wilbert, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Kube of Pampa, Mr. Mrs. Henry Stieben and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Druesedow of Lubbock, Rev. Donald Hafemann, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harbert of Dumas, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Albers and family of Hartley and Rev. and Mrs. M. J. H. Hartenberger of Amarillo.

Charles Peyton Presents Pictures to Museum

While Dr. Harris M. Cook, District Governor of Rotary International, was in Cleburne, Texas last week, Mr. Charles S. Peyton gave him three pictures made as the old main building which burned in 1914. The pictures will be framed by Dr. Cook and placed in the museum where all can view them. Mr. Peyton, now President of the Rotary Club in Cleburne, was, at the time of the fire, district manager of the telephone company in Amarillo. Mr. Peyton expressed his desire that the pictures should be placed on exhibit in the museum so that all the present and future students can see what the first building on W. T. campus was like.

The only remaining faculty members that were present at the time of the disaster are President J. A. Hill, then Head of the History Department; Dr. D. A. Shirley, then Head of the Department of Physics; and Miss Tennessee Malone, Professor of Library Economy and Head of the Department.

100 OCTANE GASOLINE

EXPECT NO MIRACLES from your present car if the tank were filled with 100-octane gasoline.

Its motor was engineered specifically for the gasolines which were available at the time you bought your car. To secure the benefits of very high octane fuels, post-war motors will have much higher compression ratios, will be smaller and lighter, and will deliver greatly increased power and extraordinary mileage.

All this will be possible because of the super gasolines to be made available for motorists in the post-war period. And you have every reason to expect that Phillips will be among the first to offer these vastly improved motor fuels soon after victory.

Why? Because Phillips is today one of the nation's five largest producers of 100-octane aviation gasoline. Phillips is also one of the leaders in the war production of butadiene for synthetic rubber.

These achievements are a direct result of Phillips long years of peacetime research to extend the frontiers of knowledge concerning hydrocarbon chemistry. Other accomplishments, which cannot now be told for security reasons, flow from Phillips wartime exploration of the limitless possibilities of chemical production of new and better things from petroleum gases as well as from petroleum.

This is why we say: Every time you see the Phillips 66 Shield, let it remind you that Phillips refineries, in addition to producing gasolines, lubricants, and fuel oils . . . are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

Are you using iodized salt? Only 50 per cent of the table salt is iodized as recommended jointly by the Goiter Study Committee of Michigan and the American Public Health Association, there would be no goiter problem. The small daily requirement for iodine is easily met by the regular use of iodized salt. It's use is especially important in adolesence and pregnancy.

It is believed by the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Research Council that an increase in the use of iodized salt will do much to prevent endemic goiter.

Students Display Many Interests

Classes Entertain Ideas Diversifying Activities

In regular class meetings Friday, November 17, class rings again held first place in senior discussions; those wanting rings remade gave orders to the secretary, and new students ordered rings. After a report on the Sadie Hawkins assembly by Don Standley, the seniors made plans for a party December 20.

With Mrs. Kate Donnell Brewster replacing Mrs. Lee Christine Sanford as sponsor, juniors decided not to have a Junior Play and made plans for their assembly program. Anita Johnigan, program chairman, directed the playing of "gossip."

After giving several reports from magazine articles, the sophomore the group guessed to whom the faces on the blackboard and others of the group guesses to whom the faces belonged.

After singing together in the library the seventh and eighth grades talked with Supt. J. B. Speer about subjects of interest pertaining to schoolwork. The seventh grade roommothers plan to give the class a party Wednesday, November 22.

In the expensive business of fighting a war, a dime's worth of oxygen may seem like an inconsequential item, yet that much oxygen is enough to keep a bomber pilot alive for 40 minutes in the high altitudes reached by today's war planes. When operating at such extreme ranges, the lives of the pilot and his crew as well as the safety of his plane, depend upon the unfailing supply of this precious gas which makes up for the deficiency of oxygen in rarefied air.

Your purchase of War Savings Stamps may not add up to the hundreds of thousands of dollars needed to buy one of those high-flying bombers, but every time you invest in a 10-cent Stamp, you are providing money for the oxygen without which our great air fleets would be practically useless.

YEARBOOK ADVERTISING

Members of the staff of "Soaring Wings," Canyon High School's forthcoming annual, wish to express their appreciation to the business and professional men of Canyon for their willing support of the yearbook through advertising.

The publication will be supported wholly by advertising from Canyon firms and individuals, who have from time to time offered whole-hearted cooperation in worth-while projects of the school.

Girls' Club Backs Scrap Campaign

FHT members have launched a scrap paper campaign in Canyon High School and are urging students to bring their waste paper from home. The homemakers plan to use the money received from the drive to finance club activities. Although the effort has not gained much momentum as yet, the girls hope that it will be a big success, not only for the club fund but in behalf of the war effort.

Laura Lee Davis, club president, says, "The success of this drive depends on the cooperation of the students, so we're putting our hopes in their hands."

Grade Notes

Jerry Don Eubanks of Mrs. T. W. Collins' first grade and Kenneth Eubanks of Mrs. L. M. Cousins fourth grade withdrew Friday and are moving to Floydada.

Johnnie Fay Bonds of Mrs. A. K. Goodman's third grade fell upon a hot pipe in the school bus and seriously burned her leg. She is now under a doctor's care.

Under the direction of Mrs. H. P. Doughty, the third grade has decorated the classroom with paper pilgrim boys carrying turkeys under their arms, signifying feasts of the pilgrims on Thanksgiving.

Enrolling in Mrs. L. M. Cousins' fourth grade last week was Weldon Vaughn from Horace Mann School in Amarillo.

Moving to Turkey temporarily are Bennie Turner from Mrs. L. M. Cousins' fourth grade and Thelma Ruth Turner from Mrs. W. E. Miller's sixth grade.

Mrs. M. O. Slack surprised Mrs. L. M. Cousins' fourth grade Friday afternoon with a treat of cookies.

FHT Group Gives Autumnal Social

Attending the tea given by the third year homemaking girls Tuesday afternoon were approximately one hundred guests. Those present were the high school faculty and mothers of all the girls taking home economics.

Thanksgiving ideas were carried out in both decorations and refreshments. Fall decorations were used with a fruit plate as the centerpiece.

Spiced tea, cheese sandwiches, cookies and orange marmalade were served.

Committee Picks School Pepsters

In an assembly held Wednesday, November 15, for the first pep rally of the year, the student body elected Betty Brown, senior, and Bonnie Drake, junior, who had been nominated by secret committee, as the chief cheer leaders. They chose as their assistants Bill Davis, Louise Dickinson, Dick Milford, and Nancy Wilson. After the newly-elected leaders directed a few yells, Coach Milton Sanders introduced the basketball boys, and the assembly was dismissed with the student body singing the school song.

Coming to Canyon High School Monday as a new student was Alvin Strem. Alvin comes from Independence, Missouri, and is living with his uncle, Mr. Ed Jones of Happy. He rides the Garrison bus and is a member of the Senior Class.

Scandal, scandal, scandal, my kingdom for some scandal!

Mrs. Knott's advice to Betty Brown is to stop wearing wool sweaters to school. Wonder why?

Claudine Beavers and Billy Ralph Baird seem to be kindling a flame, whatever that means.

Martha Wilson and James Meroney got their wires crossed in some way over the telephone. Could someone give Cal some information on this mishap?

Have all of you females noticed that Dick Milford has two whiskers on his chin? He is the MAN about school now!

Put on your glad rags, girls, Alvin Strem is not taken (yet). At the present date he is shopping and looking over the field.

Lincoln Institutes Thanksgiving According to Woman's Pleas

Governor Bradford of the Plymouth Colony in the fall of 1621 decreed the first day of thanksgiving in America after the Pilgrims, many of whom had died during the winter, gathered their first scanty harvest. Four score of friendly Indians, who brought venison and wild turkey to add to the baking and many foods fixed by the Pilgrim women, were guests. Prayers, songs, and sermons as well as feasting around outdoor tables completed the three-day celebration.

From Plymouth the custom spread to other colonies until in time the governor of each issued an annual Thanksgiving Day Proclamation. During the Revolutionary War eight special days of thanks were observed after signal victories or wonderful deliverances, and in 1789 President Washington issued a general proclamation for a day of thanks. In the same year, the Protestant Episcopal Church in America announced the first Thursday in November as an annual day for giving thanks "unless another day is appointed by civil authorities."

For many years the day was observed in only part of the states; then Mrs. Sarah Joseph Hale took an interest in the subject and for 20 years sent out pleas through the columns of her journal for a nation-wide Thanksgiving. Finally in 1864 President Lincoln designated the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day.

Thanksgiving Day, as Americans know it, is probably an outgrowth of the home-harvest celebration of England. Such festivals are of ancient origin, being nearly universal among primitive peoples.

Peoples of the Dominion of Canada also have an annual Thanksgiving Day, which is celebrated with family reunions and religious services. It is proclaimed by the Governor-General as a harvest festival. This day usually falls on the last Monday in October, but varies earlier or later with the date of harvest.

Spanish I Views Moving Picture

This film was the first of a series to be loaned to the club by Mrs. T. V. Reeves of the Public Service office at WTSC.

After president Dick Milford called the meeting to order and Laura Lee Davis, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting, Frances Gooch led the group in two Spanish songs.

A social committee composed of Mary Frances Colwell, Geraldine Small, and Frances Gooch, who were appointed at the previous meeting, will confer with members of the Spanish II club on the plans for a party for the combined clubs to be held at some time in the near future.

LUNCHROOM ICEBOX

In a special meeting, the school board of Canyon High School voted a special note of thanks to all who contributed to the icebox fund, especially to the farm ladies who sponsored the movement. The 30 cubic foot icebox, costing $499.50, arrived Monday afternoon, and was put in use first Tuesday.

Congress Invites Parental Opinion

Continuing work on the plans for the youth center, the Student-Faculty Congress will take a parent poll this week to get parental opinions on the special project that is being considered at this time by the Board of Trustees.

Various entertainments including ping-pong, table games, folk games, square dancing, social dancing, and skating will be participated in by seniors, juniors, sophomores, and freshmen.

Should the plan be approved, students will attend the center twice a month at night at a convenient time in the gymnasium if no other building is available. Classes and their sponsors will be responsible for all entertainment with the sponsors and roomparents acting as hosts and hostesses. A snack table with sandwiches or various refreshments will be located somewhere in the room.

When arriving and again when they leave, the students will sign a register, and will not be allowed to run in and out of the building.

Speakers Discuss Immediate Needs

Miss Josephine Stueber, critic teacher from the Demonstration School, and Dr. A. M. Meyer, Dean of the Graduate Division of West Texas State College, spoke to the Parent-Teacher Association Thursday, November 16, on the subjects "Discipline and Responsibility for Today's Children" and "Preparation To Earn a Good Living," respectively.

Special music was furnished by Miss Jean Tarlton, music major of West Texas State College, who played a violin solo. She was accompanied by Miss Mary Dell Johnston, also a student of the college.

This meeting was attended by about fifty or sixty parents and teachers who gathered in the music room of the Grade School for their third meeting.

Standley Scores Nineteen Points

Second String Five Cinch Season's First Victory

Rushing to an overtime victory in the final moments of the first basketball game of the season, the Canyon High School Eagles overcame the Vega Longhorns with a final tally of 49-45 Wednesday night, November 15, at Vega.

Don Standley, forward, claimed high-point honors with 19 points to his credit, closely followed by Charles Taylor with 16 points and J. Spencer Winn with 11.

Players on the second team are: Earl Gene Peppard, Kenneth Vaughan, Tommy Thompson, Harley Hicks, and Harold Erwin, while substitutes are: Earl Lock Neff, James Lair, James Meroney, Bobby Black, Wilbert Long, Flake Thurman, Bill Thurmon, and Billy Abbott.

Six Scientists Start Silly Study Society

Did you know that Mrs. Emma Gene Jackson of our own Canyon High School is the founder of our great "Jacksonnian Society of Higher Learning"? Now don't get us wrong! This popular society hasn't anything to do with the former "Stonewall" Jackson, but it is just as important to us. Only today Alvin Strem increased the membership by 20%—of course, this doesn't happen every day.

Sparks of this society started when Tommy Thompson signed his name on the enrollment card. Since then members have come from Missouri, Canyon, and some even ride as far as five miles, five days a week, to meet with the group. It has grown from just a little flame and is rapidly becoming a ball of fire in the hearts of all its members—and why not? They meet three hours a day.

Mrs. Jackson has divided the society into four classes of one hour each, with such names as chemistry, physics, plane geometry, and solid geometry. Members have a choice of any of three. It is not to be believed that any member could stand to take all four and still retain his sanity.

At present its membership has such well known mathematicians and scientists as J. Spencer Winn, Tommy Thompson, Alvin Strem, Vergie Haines, and Margaret Lair.

Now we realize that a society of six doesn't look very large to you, but the members hope to make it a lasting society by urging all scientifically inclined students to enroll for at least three hours of science next year.

It is our hope that this shall be a day of Thanksgiving to all people in Randall county. May the peace and happiness of Thanksgiving be yours in great abundance.

We certainly appreciate the business you have given us—which makes us very, very thankful to each of you.

Is your home and other property fully insured against the dangers of winter? See us about it.

OUR PILGRIM FOREFATHERS

Deserve all the honor that has since been accorded them.

They had the vision of a land of homes with religious freedom and had the courage to sacrifice for their ideal. And they were thankful for the manifestation of God's goodness to them.

The men and women of today continue to have ideals of home—and they continue to sacrifice in order to realize them. They too, deserve much credit.

Let Us Give Thanks

Thanksgiving, 1944—many of us cannot pause to give our thanks, but must offer them as we go. For this is a war year, and no time for relaxing our efforts.

We do, however, have much to be thankful for, if we look beyond today. Every day of war brings us nearer Victory, provided we do our part and not falter. We still have our country and our homes, unmarred by any invader's hand. We still have more of comfort and prosperity than any other nation on earth.

To many, it is true, the war has brought sacrifice and bereavement. In these we must be upheld by the conviction that they are the steps to peace and a better world. We must resolve to make sure that they have not been in vain.

Let us be thankful for our own great area, for its favorable climate, immense resources, varied agriculture and industrious people. When peace returns it will bring us an opportunity as broad as our landscape. So while we look forward, let us give thanks, with a hope that another year will bring the blessings of Peace all over the world.

Faculty Frolics Opened Bond Sale on Monday Night

People who attended the "Faculty Follies" Monday night received one shock after another as members of the faculty of West Texas State College frisked across the stage.

Following the song "Any Bonds Today," presented by the whole cast, "Romeo" and "Juliet" appeared complete with balcony and music. Mrs. Tommie Montfort played as Juliet. Romeo was played by J. W. Shook.

The Twirling Trio, dance team, sponsored by Cactus and Mesquite tripped out next. J. L. Duflot was really tossed about by Mrs. Oma Ford and Miss Ruth Cross.

Students squirmed in their seats when the "faculty" started answering questions in the Little Red School House. Those cast in the classroom scenes were Pres. Joe Hill, B. F. Fronabarger, Mitchell Jones, A. M. Meyer, Ardis Patman, T. M. Moore, Mrs. T. V. Reeves, Lee Sullivan, Mattie Swayne, Agnes Charlton, Marion Miller, Mildred Tietz, and Isabel Robinson.

The Stink Harmonica Orchestra, conducted by Lewis Chamberlain, enthralled the audience with American folk tunes. Members of the orchestra include Mary Hodges, Bea Clark, Collin Wimberly, Sada Ruth Hoskins, Nadine Newell, and Nell Green.

Following selections by the orchestra, the curtain opened upon the Whistle-Wetter Bar. Full of gamblers, barmaids, bartenders, debutantes, flirts, pie-eaters, singing waiters, torch singer, floor show presented by the "muscling" Buffs, the bar presented a typical representation of night life. Gamblers were played by Lewis Chamberlain, the professional; Boone McClure, shot; Milton Morris, and John Gillis. The Singing Waiters, sponsored by Randall Hall, were F. E. Savage, J. E. Douglas, Gus Miller, and Clyde Warwick. Bartender was played by Kenneth Goodman. Novella Goodman made a good barmaid. Pie-eater, T. M. Moore, ordered pie throughout the act. Fishermen came in with their catches. Cowboys tramped in. Flirts, Hattie Anderson and Hellen Hickman, made the Whistle-Wetter Bar a gay place. Debutante J. L. Duflot, escorted by B. F. Fronabarger, really made a hit with the audience. Marion Miller went to town on several torch songs. Eddy Castleberry squirmed the "hula."

The Mystery Swooncrooner, sponsored by Stafford Hall, appeared next. The audience swooned when they saw him "in person."

The next big item in the Follies was the Darktown Minstrel. "Niggas" in the minstrel were J. E. Douglas, Guy Harp, Lee Gilmore, and W. W. Nicklaus. Mr. Interlocutor was played by Dr. C. A. Pierle.

The last act in the Faculty Follies was a mock wedding. Bride was played by Deacon Johnson. The bridegroom was Josephine Stueber. Edna Graham played the preacher. Others were: Adele Barnes, ring-bearer; Virgil Henson, flower girl; Pauline Brigham, pianist; Wallace R. Clark, singer; Ruth Cross, best man! Mattie Swayne, bride's father; Oma Ford, rejected singer; Thomas B. McCarter, bride's mother and C. A. Murray, the crying bride's maid.

L. S. Baker entertained the audience no end chasing butterflies everywhere.

OUR PART HAS BEEN EASY...

Let's PROVE Our Thanksgiving!

You've had bigger profits—
NOW BUY BIGGER BONDS

This is a BIG farm year—Now Buy BIGGER Bonds!

Here are 6 big reasons for buying the most you can—$100, $500, $1,000—in the big 6th War Loan. War Bonds give you:

1. The best and safest investment in the world.
2. At maturity, $4.00 for every $3.00 you loan.
3. The convenience of cash—plus increase in value!
4. Funds to replace and restore worn-out farm equipment, soil fertility, and buildings.
5. Funds for educating your children; a nest-egg for your own security, travel, retirement.
6. The increased purchasing power vitally needed to win the Peace.

THEY still die—will YOU buy?

FARMERS have much to be thankful for this year. Before you sit down to that big turkey dinner, ask yourself if you've done the best you could. Loaning money is the easiest part of the war effort—but it is as essential as fighting. We don't need to ask if they're fighting enough. Are you loaning enough?

It's been a mighty good year for farmers. So far it's been an easy war in general for us in the United States: But it isn't over yet. Not by a long shot. The biggest part of the job is still ahead. The war against Japan will probably be history's costliest. One average Navy task force costs 2 billion dollars—and we need many of them. Even one torpedo costs $12,000! And one super-fortress to bomb Tokyo, $600,000.

Your dollars are urgently needed—now more than ever—to speed victory and insure America's future. Prove your Thanksgiving. Buy the biggest War Bonds you can—NOW!

Schools Criticised For Inefficient Work by Speaker

Dr. C. A. Pierle was the Rotary luncheon speaker Tuesday. He made a classification talk on his work as head of the Chemistry department of West Texas State.

The public schools were criticised for having failed to teach boys and girls how to read and write and work simple mathematics. Mr. Pierle maintains that the state is forced to pay college professors to do the work which the grade and high schools have failed to do.

After World War I there was a demand to put all youth in the field of science; when the depression came, the President advocated that youth be taught to play, and too many have not recovered from this theory.

Dr. Pierle stated that the past year he had calls from one firm for 60 boys and girls to enter a big industrial plant to be trained for good positions—he had only 6 who were qualified. He had another call for 20, which he could not fill.

There is no end for education. The public schools argue that so few go to college that fundamental subjects are not properly taught. But all these boys and girls must go out and continue their education regardless of whether they go to college, stated the speaker.

The Rotary Ann Christmas banquet will be held Dec. 19.
